What Is the 100th Day of School?

The 100th Day of School is a special day celebrated at schools in many places around the world. It is a day to celebrate the first 100 days of the school year.

The 100th Day of School is a day for children to celebrate.

DID YOU KNOW?

The 100th Day of School is celebrated in schools across the United States, Canada, Ireland, England, and many other countries around the world.

The 100th Day of School

Schools open on different dates in different places.

The 100th Day of School is not celebrated on the same day by everyone. Different schools begin classes on different dates so some schools reach 100 days before others. Most schools celebrate the 100th Day of School at the end of January or in early February.
